DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 28-40 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

With regard to claim(s) 28, line(s) 3, the examiner sees no antecedent basis in the disclosure for providing a booster fluid downstream of the blower.

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 28-40 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

With regard to claim(s) 28, it is unclear in what way the applicant is providing an additional positive air flow downstream of the blower.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 1, 3, 5-8, 17-19, 22-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gerber (6,364,579) in view of Zlotos, substantially as applied on 6/10/04.

7. Claims 1-3, 5-8, 17-19, 20, 22-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gerber (6,364,579) in view of Gerber et al. (6,092,747), substantially as applied on 6/10/04.

8. Claims 1, 3, 5-8, 17-19, 22-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gerber (6,364,579) in view of Toyota et al., substantially as applied on 6/10/04.

Conclusion

9. Regarding the applicant's remarks of 9/13/04, the examiner offers the following response.

With regard to page 10, fourth paragraph, Gerber (6,364,579) discloses introducing fibrous material, 48, Figure(s) 4.

With regard to page 11, second paragraph, the examiner disagrees and in fact asserts that the applicant would be hard pressed to find a fluid velocity sensor in practice that was not indirectly sensing pressure, or vice-versa. Empirical correlations between the two are common engineering practice for any given process conditions. In industry a system will in general have several process variables which each vary over some narrow range; for which process conditions are determined over all of said ranges.

With regard to page 11, third paragraph, what the disclosure implicitly eludes is not reflected in the applicant's claim language.

With regard to page 12, second paragraph, Toyota et al. discloses the broad principle of applying a metering orifice. Again, amounts metered are not reflected in the applicant's claim language.

With regard to page 13, second paragraph, Gerber et al. (6,092,747) discloses control of feed rate based on differential pressure, column 6, line(s) 45, et seq.

10. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

11. Claims 4,10-16, 21 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

12. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

13. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Joseph A. Dillon, Jr. whose telephone number is (703)305-9728. The examiner can normally be reached on 8-5:30, every other Friday off.
